Roosevelt Cohorts and the "Old Guard" in Empire State Resting on Their Arms

NEW YORK Sept 23 - The pre-convention fight between the Republican "old guard" and the progressives virtually closed today. After a day of conferences with politicians from various parts of the state Colonel Roosevelt said that the chances for victory were even better than yesterday when he predicted that the progressives would have a majority of at least 100 delegates at the Saratoga convention next week

Colonel Roosevelt spent some time today in going over the draft of a platform. A direct primary plank in particular was considered at length, but no one was willing to say how it should be shaped. Tariff and labor planks also received careful consideration.

Resolutions pledging supoprt to Theodore Roosevelt in every step he may take in his effort to popularize party government and to effect equal opportunity in business 'through the divorcement of business and politics,' were adopted here today at a meeting of the executive committee of the Republican League of clubs of the state of New York A telegram was also sent to President Taft expressing approval of the stand he took in his letter to Lloyd C Griscom, defining his attitude toward the contest between Colonel Roosevelt and the old guard '

SARATOGA N Y Sept 23 - Prepared for one of the bitterest strugles in the annals of Republican politics the old guard moved on to Saratoga tonight Timothy L Woodruff admits that the contest will be close, but is still firm in his belief that te convention will indorse the selection of Vice President Sherman by the state committee as its temporary chairman

JOY RIDERS IN COUNTY JAIL

TWO NEGROES CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.

L. S. Barnes, Owner of Automobile, Swears Out Warrant. Women in the Hospital.

As a sequel to the early morning joy riding affair about 1 o'clock yesterday which ended in L S Barnes' Thomas torpedo flyer being wrecked near Pike View Ernest Collins and Fred Howell both colored are in the county jail charged with burglary

It is said that Collins admitted to the police that he took the Barnes car from the owner's garage and also that [illegible] Howell The men may be given a hearing in Justice Dunnington's court today Both warrants were issued upon the complaint of Mr. Barnes whose automobile a total wreck was dragged into the city yesterday

Early morning reports of the midnight escapade were to the effect that of the two colored girls in the party Evelyn McDonald and Rosa Norwood the former was killed when the car turned over and buried her under the tonneau Both girls are badly bruised and cut but it was stated at St Francis hospital last night that they will recover No bones were broken and so far no internal injuries have developed

The first information received by Mr Barnes that his car had been stolen and wrecked was a telephone call from The Gazette about 3 o'clock yesterday morning He at once took the matter up with the police and shortly after the rescue party brought the injured to town Collins who escaped without a scratch was under arrest The two girls and Howell were taken to the hospital and a police officer detailed on guard Yesterday afternoon Howell's condition was so improved that he and Collins were transferred to the county jail to await trial

Insured Car Day Before

The new model Thomas purchased in Denver a few weeks ago was to have been shipped to the Pacific coast yesterday by Mr Barnes who has been spending the summer in Colorado Springs A freight car had been chartered [illegible] Thursday through Whitney Stackhouse & Kenk [illegible] the insurance [illegible] had not been formally turned over to Barnes as it was late in the afternoon when he arranged the matter the firm will

NO ACTION REGARDING STATUE OF R. E. LEE

G. A. R. Encampment at Atlantic City Ends 'Higher Pensions Are Advocated.

ATLANTIC CITY, N J Sept 23—After a warm debate of more than three hours the national encampment of the G A R at its final session this afternoon indefinitely postponed action on the controversy over the placing of the statue of Robert E. Lee in Statuary hall The vote was 133 to 102 a small total compared with the vote of 887 cast for commander in chief yesterday

The encampment rejected the proposition recommending that Congress be asked to grant each Union veteran a pension of $1 a day for life but indorsed the McCumber bill relating to pensions of widows

It was recommended that the [illegible] pensions of veterans 62 years of age be increased from $1 to $[illegible], 70 years of age from $15 to $20 and 75 years of age from $20 to $25 a month.

The debate on the statue question proceeded until darkness Following the debate the encampment installed the newly elected officers before taps were sounded bringing the encampment to a close

The headquarters for the G A R for the next year will be at the state house Boston

PRESIDENT RETURNS TO CAPITAL TODAY

CINCINNATI Sept [illegible] President Taft's visit to Cincinnati will end tomorrow afternoon when he leaves for Washington to meet the members of his cabinet for a series of important conferences Today the President visited the Woodward High school and made a little speech on the democracy of public school education Mr Taft graduated from the Woodward High school He also stopped at the House of Refuge where he briefly addressed an audience of wayward boys

CHAMP CLARK SOUNDS KEYNOTE OF CAMPAIGN

ST LOUIS Sept 23 Preliminary to the opening of the fall campaign in Missouri nearly 200 Democratic editors from all parts of the state attended a banquet here tonight and heard Congressman Champ Clark outline the issues His speech was considered the keynote of the coming battle He told what the Democrats would do if they got into power One thing was revise the tariff to a revenue basis

ALLEGED BRIBE GIVER REBUKED

WHO IS L. O. BROWNE? DELEGATE ASKS.

Illinois Democratic Platform Against Both Bribery and Lorimer.

EAST ST LOUIS Ill Sept 23.—Lee O'Neill Browne recently acquitted of bribery in connection with the election of United States Senator Lorimer was refused recognition twice on the floor of the Illinois Democratic state convention here today As a member of the resolutions committee he was told by Roger C Sullivan national committeeman of the Democratic party in Illinois not to assert himself

The platform adopted was different in many planks from the draft when the committee took into its room Loud words were heard from the room These were from Browne who called some members of the party who recently met at Peoria blackmailers

Browne was denied on the resolutions committee by members of the Twenty-[illegible] senatorial district delegation His name was hissed and cheered by delegates

In reading the list of members of the commission the secretary read the name L O Browne whereupon a delegate asked

Who is this L O Browne

This question was ignored by the chair and when the delegate insisted upon a reply Browne arose and replied

If the gentleman wishes information I am the man to give it to him '

Ignored by Chair

He was not allowed to reply and Congressman Henry T Rainey chairman obtained order with difficulties The second rebuff came to Browne just as the convention adjourned after the adoption of the platform With the motion for adjournment pending Browne stood with his friends in the center of the hall demanding recognition He was ignored

After the convention was brought to a close he made his way to the chairman and explained he wanted to say he could not approve of that part of the platform which referred to United States Senator Lorimer

The Democratic party according to the platform admits that Senator Lorimer was elected by the votes of some of its party, does not assume that

CHAVEZ FLIES OVER THE ALPS

Young Peruvian First to Perform Spectacular Feat, but Fails to Win Prize.

BADLY INJURED BY FALL

After Negotiating Peaks and Chasms Upsets When About to Land on Italian Soil.

DOMODOSSOLA Italy Sept 23—The great feat of crossing the snow-capped Alpine barrier between Switzerland and Italy in a heavier-than-air machine was accomplished today by George Chavez the young Peruvian aviator

The plucky hero of the exploit however, lies tonight in the Domodossola hospital badly injured as the result of an accident that occurred just as he had completed the most arduous and nerve-racking portion of the task. Both of his legs are broken his left thigh is fractured, and his body is badly contused, but physicians are of the opinion that these hurts will not prove fatal

The accident occurred as Chavez was trying to make a landing here The Alps had been crossed successfully and the aviator was descending with the power of his machine cut off When about 30 feet above the ground a sudden gust of wind seemed to catch the monoplane which turned over and fell When the crowds that had been watching the descent ran up they found Chavez lying bleeding and unconscious beneath the twisted wreckage Willing hands lifted the aviator from the ground and bore him to the hospital

Fifty miles away and over country that has none of the hazards of the Alps lay Milan the goal Chavez was seeking in an endeavor to win a prize of $20 000 offered by the Italian Aviation society for the flight Chavez had lost the race

Defies Death.

Leaving the ground with his motor running at full speed he rose in sweeping circles until he had reached an altitude of 7,300 feet then turned his machine south over the terrifying Simplon pass

After crossing the divide Chavez turned the towering white mountain head of Monte Leone, which rises to a height of 16 646 feet and passed down the Gondo Gorge a deep gulf between sheer walls, he reached the open valley of Vedro and then descended easily toward Domodossola It was here that the accident occurred

The 25 miles between Brig and Domodossola, which it took the armies of Napoleon a fortnight to negotiate Chavez accomplished in 40 minutes

After treatment in the hospital Chavez regained consciousness. He suffered terribly from his hurts He said he was unable to explain how the accident occurred

Henry Weymann the American aviator who made two unsuccessful attempts in the Brig-Milan race today, sent a telegram of sympathy to Chavez

Although Chavez did not succeed in winning the prize of $20 000, having failed to reach Milan, some of the members of the aviation committee are in favor of turning over the purse to him and erecting a monument in commemoration of man's first flight across the Alps

BABIES' BODIES IN SEWERS OF DENVER

DENVER Sept 23—The police of Denver are working to locate what they think is a band of traffickers in the bodies of infants

The latest evidence of such crimes was revealed in a manner most spectacular Last night's terrific storm so taxed the capacity of the city's sewer system that today many of the catch basins had to be cleaned out to permit the flood water to drain from the streets

When the catch basin at West Colfax and Acoma streets was opened by George McIntyre and James P Thomas drainers the men started in horror at the sight of three little bodies floating in the water trap The bodies were allowed to remain as found until the coroner could make an official inspection The condition of the bodies was such as to render it impossible to decide whether the infants were alive or dead when thrown into the loathsome place

Seldom has a crime so open and daring been brought to light in this city The place where the bodies were found is within a stone's throw of the magnificent Carnegie library and but a trifle further from the state capitol building and the county court house At night the immediate vicinity of the manhole and trap is one of the most brilliantly illuminated in the entire city

CHARGED WITH OPIUM TRAFFIC

COLORADO CITY CHINAMAN IN TROUBLE.

Nabbed by Federal Inspectors. Said to Have Been "Caught With the Goods."

Believing that they have located a shipping point for opium to points in Colorado, R. H. Love and J. G. Allard, government inspectors from Denver, last night arrested Sam Wah, who has been conducting what was supposed to be a laundry on Colorado avenue, west of Sixth street, Colorado City. The Chinaman is now in the city jail here, and will be taken to Denver today by the two inspectors.

Wah was surprised late last night in his laundry by the inspectors, and at the time they entered a back room he was engaged, it is said, in cooking yen-she, a smoking and chewing mixture that is made from opium ashes. The officers also confiscated two packages of opium, bearing the government seal of 1909, and $339 in cash, much of which the prisoner is supposed to have received from selling the drug.

The old cabin, with its rough-chinked logs, is frequently pointed out to tourists as the original territorial capitol building of Colorado, though this claim is incorrect. It is, however, one of the oldest, if not the oldest, structure in Colorado City Wah has been a tenant in the building for many years, and is well known in the town.

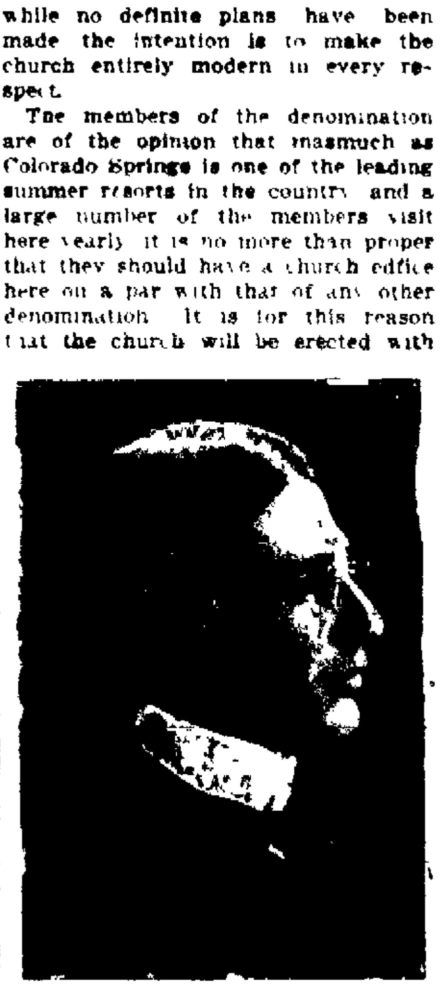
NEW CHURCH TO BE BUILT HERE

UNITED BRETHREN IN CHRIST PLANS.

If Constructed, Will Be Equal of Any in City—Rev. Mr. Kohler Reappointed.

Another new church, equaling in architecture and beauty any now in the city may be added to the handsome ones already in Colorado Springs, if plans of the church of United Brethren in Christ are carried out While the local congregation would occupy the church, it is to be erected by the members of that denomination all over the country and while no definite plans have been made the intention is to make the church entirely modern in every respect

The members of the denomination are of the opinion that inasmuch as Colorado Springs is one of the leading summer resorts in the country and a large number of the members visit here yearly it is no more than proper that they should have a church edifice here on a par with that of any other denomination It is for this reason that the church will be erected with funds contributed by the members from all over the United States



REV. HENRY IRVING KOHLER,
Who Has Been Reappointed Pastor of the United Brethren in Christ Church, This City.

If the church is built here, it will be on a different site from the one now occupied by the church L O Miller of Dayton, O denominational treasurer for the United States, was in Colorado Springs for several days looking over real estate that might prove available for the purpose He is now at Wichita, Kan attending the southwestern Kansas conference of the church

Mr. Kohler Reappointed

At the Colorado district conference of the Church of United Brethren in Christ which just closed at Niwot Colo the Rev Henry Irving Kohler, pastor of the church of that denomination in this city was reappointed here for another year on his own request He came to the Colorado Springs church a year ago and the report submitted to the conference shows that

CANNON TAKES WHACK AT PRESS

Says Could Not Get Even With It if He Lived as Long as Methuselah.

HOME STATE STANDS PAT

Illinois G. O. P. Platform Indorses Tariff Law; Ignores Lorimer.

SPRINGFIELD Ill Sept 23 — Uncle Joe Cannon—which is the proper appellation down here where many years ago the young lawyer Joe Cannon rode the circuit with three law books and the high hope of youth—attended the Republican state convention today and enjoyed himself

He saw a platform adopted meeting his tariff ideas heard addresses approving the work of Congress and President Taft put his arms about many old friends smoked cigars and delivered a speech himself amid vociferous applause

He swung his arms stamped his feet and shouted as he talked and occasionally he smiled True the platform adopted did not mention him by name but the reason did not lie in himself Senator Lorimer's name was omitted as a starter and after some deliberation—but in order that its absence might not be too glaring—it was agreed to omit the names of Senator Cullom and the speaker Senator Cullom personally caused the withdrawal of the plank complimentary to himself

"This is not a time of war Thank God, it is an era of peace in this country I refer to this incident not to stir up animosity but in the contest touching economic policies in the presence of misrepresentation in the presence of falsehood in the presence of denunciation abounding everywhere but most in the 'uplift' magazines and a large portion of the metropolitan press, it is the time for all the Republican party in Illinois and all over the country to stand up and be counted

I pray God to help the great party keep the Republican faith whether we succeed or fail It is better to fight and fail standing true to correct principles and policies of government which underlie the prosperity of 90 000 000 people, than cowardly to turn our backs to the contest flee from the enemy apologize and excuse

Discusses Tariff.

In discussing the new tariff law he said

While it may be wrong in an item here and there I want to say to you that so long as the human race survives when it comes to making a great tariff law that assists in gathering $800 000,000 or $900 000 000 to carrying on this government, that must be passed by a majority of the House and Senate representing a territory stretching 3 500 miles from one ocean to the other with complex and diverse interests, nobody ever has or ever will or even can enact a perfect revenue law. The older I get and the more I see of myself and of men the more strongly convinced I am that perfection resides with God alone together with all wisdom and all power

He concluded

"Our friends the enemy and the great metropolitan press or a portion of it, do not print long editorials setting forth the facts that I am stating From pride of opinion or otherwise, they put off in one corner in fine type any statement that may be favorable to the tariff law and pile up the headlines, and the headlines in the main give the lie to the dispatch and the dispatch frequently only tells a half truth

"Do not let any man think I am abusing the press It has its legitimate place If I were to abuse it, even though I should live to be as old as Methuselah Gods knows I never would get even with it If there is any counsel that is necessary to be taken in this time of history with the many false prophets abroad with denunciation and with hot fire all over the country, with our Democratic opponents attacking us and seeking to tear down when they never have in my lifetime demonstrated any capacity to build up if there ever was a time in peace when the command that was given to the children of Israel to move forward should be heeded. it should be now '

A REVISION DOWNWARD, SAYS FATHER OF BILL

LYONS N Y, Sept 23—Representative Sereno E Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives and author of the tariff law bearing his name made a warm defense of that measure before the [illegible] convention which renominated him here today. He said in part:

The law as it was signed by the president has resulted in a [illegible] revision downward and no [illegible] special pleading, no [illegible] facts and no [illegible] facts will [illegible]

LORIMER'S PLEA FOR DELAY DISREGARDED

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The senatorial sub-committee on privileges and elections which convened here to investigate the alleged fraud in the election of United States Senator William Lorimer decided today to proceed at this time with the taking of testimony, and not to postpone action until after the November elections, as urged by the senator's attorneys.

At the opening of today's session Chairman Burrows also announced the committee would permit Attorney Alfred Austrian, representing the Chicago Tribune, and Elbridge Hanecy, representing Senator Lorimer, to appear in the hearing.

The Tribune's list of witnesses was submitted and the committee began consideration of methods of procedure.

CRAZY MAN RIVAL OF THE JACKRABBIT

HANNA, Wyo., Sept 23.—After being restrained from leaping from a Union Pacific transcontinental train near Sherman, Wyo., Charles Burns, a passenger, left the train here, acting wildly, and was pursued for six miles across the sage brush before he was caught. Burns was placed in jail and proceeded to jab his throat with a nail file until it was taken from him. He calmed down later and was sent on west.

MINER PICKS INTO RESERVOIR; IS DROWNED

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Occidental mine No. 3 at Palmer, 30 miles southeast of Seattle, was flooded last Tuesday by the escape of a large body of water released by a miners' pick. One miner was drowned and his 17 companions barely escaped.

SEATTLE PLAGUE SPOT, SAYS ACTING MAYOR

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—Acting Mayor Max Wardall, who devoted last night to a slumming expedition, made a statement today charging the police department with grafting.

"Almost every part of the department is permeated with corruption," said the acting mayor. "The restricted district of Seattle is the worst I ever saw, and I have been in Suez, in the orient and in many places on the continent of Europe, but Seattle is the worst."

LAND SALE POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Owing to the inaccessibility of the abandoned Fort Bowie military reservation, in southeastern Arizona, the sale of about 22,000 acres of land, which was scheduled to take place there on October 10, has been postponed by the general land office.

BALLINGER KEEPS ON MAKING DENIALS

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior department, on his way to Washington to attend cabinet meetings beginning next Monday, vehemently denied today that one of these meetings would be devoted to consideration of a request for his resignation.

UNDERSTANDABLE DOUBT ACQUITS OF LUNACY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—"Who is President of the United States?" asked Judge Mullowney of William Thomas, a jail prisoner, who was being examined yesterday by a lunacy jury.

"'Deed, jedge, ah doan rightly know. They say they's two of 'em—one's Mr. Taft and the other's Teddy," was the prisoner's reply.

"Not guilty" was the verdict.

BALTIMORE FALLS TO SEVENTH PLACE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Baltimore, which was sixth city in the United States in point of population in 1900, has lost her position in the country's great cities, according to today's census statistics and now becomes seventh city, having in the last ten years been outstripped by Cleveland, which takes sixth place.

Baltimore's population is now 558,485, as compared with Cleveland's 560,663.

DR. COOK DISCOVERED?

NEW YORK, Sept 23.—Dr Frederick A. Cook, the vanishing explorer, has been sighted in a Munich hotel under the name of Mr. Coleman and family, so Michael M. Ryan of Bridgeport, Conn, has informed the New York Times which will publish his account tomorrow of how he met the doctor.

EXPLOSION ON THE GEORGIA; NONE HURT

WOMEN AND WEIGHT

From the N. Y. Morning Telegraph.

Women fear fatness far more than men do. They will go without food and sleep and wear themselves out exercising to keep their weight down.

The right way and the only way to lessen the weight and keep it down is to go without eating. Food is the only thing in the world that makes fat. If you go without it is it not reasonable to suppose that you will lose weight? Drugs, exercise—all these things may help to reduce but the only way to keep light is to stop eating so much. People of sense know this without telling. But there are many who make a mystery of fatness, whereas there is nothing to it. A man or woman is fat because he or she eats too much.

for 20 years. Later, he took a conductor's run out of Denver and moved his family to that city. He was not in charge of the wrecked train, but was coming to Denver to see his wife and child.

When it was learned yesterday that Olney, the mail clerk was one of those injured in the wreck, one of the first remarks by the men who know him in this city was regarding a premonition which he has had for some time that he is to meet his death in a railroad wreck.

According to his friends, Olney has for some time made attempts to be switched from a railroad run to a place in the office because of this premonition. He has been in several wrecks.

According to the Associated Press report, the train was running on time, and practically on a straight track. The first intimation that the engineer had of any danger was when he realized that the forward portion of the train was running in water which had spread out over the tracks near the fill. Reversing his engine, the speed of the train was checked, but not enough to prevent the engine, baggage car, and smoker going over into the depression.

Smoker Smashed.

The rear end of the smoker remained tilted on the earth bank, and the chair car ripped its way into the smoker, smashing it to pieces and killing or injuring many of the passengers.

The chair car itself was considerably damaged by the crash, and several passengers riding in this coach were injured. As near as can be learned, all the passengers killed were occupants of the smoker.

To the coolness and quick wit of Engineer Pickenpaugh, who lost his life, is attributed the saving of the lives of those who escaped, numbering 100 or more. It is certain that he could have jumped and saved himself, but he remained at his post and did everything possible to prevent the train running into the ditch. Examination of the engine and air brakes showed that he had reversed the lever and set the air in an effort to check the flight of the train. The three Pullmans remained on the track and the occupants of these cars were unhurt.

Wrecking Crews Secured.

As soon as communication was had with the division headquarters from Clayton and Norton, wrecking crews and doctors and nurses were dispatched to the scene aboard a special train from Phillipsburg. The dead and injured were placed on this special at the scene, and were taken to Norton, Kan., where the dead were turned over to an undertaker and the injured placed in a hospital.

None of the injured is in a serious condition, and it is reported that all will be able to leave for their homes in a few days.

The washout was repaired late this evening and traffic resumed. The Pullmans of the wrecked train were started for the west at 7:30 o'clock last night, and are due here and in Denver at about 2:30 this (Saturday) morning. Other trains held up because of the wreck were sent out of Norton soon afterward.

Phillipsburg, Kan., 51 miles from Clayton, sent Chief Dispatcher Inwood and Trainmaster Ellis on the special train to superintend the work of clearing the track and starting traffic, and they were reinforced later by Superintendent F. M. Patt of Colorado Springs. Practically all the information concerning the disaster that reached the public was given out by George A. Martin, general agent in Denver.

Mail Clerk Calls Help.

The first person to escape from the wreck and summon assistance from Clayton was A. W. Hunter, a mail clerk. His car was caught in a mass of wreckage but he managed to extricate himself and go after help.

It was almost 2 o'clock, an hour after the wreck happened, that he reached the town. Not until near daylight was he able to get anyone to aid him. One of the unidentified dead, is a girl presumably about 7 years of age. The child was riding in a chair car with her mother when the crash came, according to passengers. After the cars had settled down, the woman, not realizing that the danger point had been passed, threw the child out of a window into the stream. The girl was drowned and her body swept a mile away. The mother has not been located.

In a pile of drift half a mile from the wreck, the unidentified trunk of a man was found.

NEW CHURCH

In that time it has made remarkable strides. The local United Brethren in Christ church is located at 417 South Cascade avenue.

The Rev. Mr. Kohler is well known throughout the country, and strong efforts were made to secure him as pastor of one of the two churches of the denomination at Wichita, Kan. To this end, Dr. Thomas W. Perks of Wichita, Kan., conference superintendent of the southwestern Kansas conference, offered Mr. Kohler either of the two churches, but he refused to accept, saying that he would rather remain here with the friends he has made, and the work he has entered into.

Mrs. Eva Grimes, who came to this city recently from Arkansas City, Kan., was appointed deaconess and assistant pastor of the church for the coming year. E. H. Huffman, also of this city, was the local representative of the church at the conference.

Whether Collins has been guilty of taking the Barnes car out on other occasions, has not been established, although the owner is satisfied that someone has been using it at night.

Mr. Barnes, who is a nephew of C. H. Barnes of the Barnes-Stephen Plumbing company of this city, lives at Long Beach, Cal. He recently sold iron lands to the Harriman interests for $250,000.

Collins was employed as a waiter at the Elks club, and has known Mr. Barnes for many years. He has frequently asked to be taken into his employ, and only a few hours before the joy ride he called at the Barnes home, 1231 North Cascade avenue, to ask that he be taken along when Mr. Barnes went to California for the winter.

Fred Howell, the other prisoner, was employed as janitor at the Pikes Peak club.

MANIAC IN ARKANSAS KILLS SLEEPING WIFE

ROGERS, Ark., Sept 23.—While his wife was asleep in bed early yesterday George Moore, a wealthy resident of this city beat out her brains with a stick of stove wood, then wounded Mrs. John Sikes of Columbia, Mo., a visitor in his home, and attempted to murder his infant child. When neighbors rushed to the house Moore met them at the door, escorted them to his wife's apartments and calmly asked them what they were going to do with him. He is believed to be insane.

CAT ATTACKS ROOSTER IN CHANTECLER HAT

DES MOINES, Sept. 23.—A handsome chantecler hat was almost destroyed and its wearer, Miss Lucy Livingstone, was severely injured about the face when a big cat which had been hiding in a tree overhead leaped upon her with the evident intention of eating the rooster on the hat. The services of a surgeon were required to close the wounds in the girl's face. Miss Livingstone is a freshman at Drake university and lives in Garden Grove.

OUTLINES FUTURE WORK

Talk by Chairman Curtis of Joint Committee on Road and Street Improvements.

Leonard Curtis, president of the Automobile club of Colorado Springs, and who was Thursday elected chairman of the joint committee on road and street improvements in Colorado Springs and El Paso county, yesterday outlined the policy of the committee as follows:

The Committee's Policy.

"We think it best to concentrate our attention first of all to a betterment of the streets and roads, and our purpose is to give assistance so far as possible to the city and county administrations and to the other existing organizations that have for their object the betterment of affairs concerning the welfare of the entire city and county.

"Helping and directing as far as may be, and not kicking or complaining, is to be our motto and in the work so far we have been greatly encouraged by the spirit of unanimity shown in the campaign for good roads and better streets. We expect that the county will vote for the appropriation of bonds to the extent of $125,000 for the betterment of roads and building of permanent bridges and in this we hope to lend our assistance by suggestions for a systematic plan of improvement.

Will Work With Authorities.

"From time to time in every community problems arise in which the city and county administrations feel they would like to have the advice of the business interests and if there is no business organization representing fairly the entire business interests of the city they are at a loss. On such questions there may be a fairly unanimous public sentiment existing but if there is no focusing point through which this feeling may find expression, the public officials are more or less at sea and the general tone of the community is weakened. It is to supply so far as may be something that will fulfill this function that the committee on roads and streets has been organized and we hope to be of some service in behalf of the city and county. Already considerable missionary work has been accomplished among the farmers of the county and as opportunity offers we feel sure that every business man will do what he can to educate public sentiment in favor of good country roads and permanent work in the way of bridges.

People Should Know Value.

"For instance, I had a little experience the other day that exemplifies what I mean. I was coming in on the road near Franceville when I found a homesteader from the southeastern part of the county stuck fast in a sand hole with which I was pretty well acquainted. He had unhitched his team and made up his mind to spending the night there, but we turned about, pulled his wagon out with the auto and sent him on his way. I talked with the man, found out where he was located, explained to him the plan for the betterment of roads, showed him that it included a road straight east from Fountain to the county line and that the cost to him would not be over $1 a year. The man was quite astonished.

"'Why, one trip would pay for that and more,' he said, 'and it will increase the value of my ranch immensely.' That man went away a booster for good roads and will become an educative force among his neighbors."

ALLEGED BRIBE

it has any political interest in Senator Lorimer, and it does not consider him as representing the principles of the party. The election is deplored.

The original draft condemned "bath room tactics" and "jackpot" legislation. These words were eliminated by the committee, according to the secretary, because they were objectionable. The revised plank read:

Opposed to Bribery.

"The Democratic party is unalterably oposed to the giving or to the taking of bribes by those seeking legislative favors, and we condemn in unmeasured terms any person or persons, Democrat or Republican, who may have ben guilty of any participation therein and declare in this connection that we favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people."

A plank maintaining that the people are entitled to as low prices on school books as prevail in other states and urging that efforts be made to obtain a reduction was inserted in the committee room.

The platform came out squarely for home rule for cities and villages after the resolutions committee reached an agreement. The plank opposing the cumulative system of voting for legislators was eliminated. Otherwise the platform on which the Democratic party will seek votes in November was the same as the original draft.

BIG MINING COMPANY GOES TO THE WALL

BOSTON, Sept 23.—The National Mining Exploration company filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy and passed into the hands of receivers today with liabilities of $381,000 and assets of $23,800. The secured liabilities amount to $355,000. President Frank A. Woodward and Arthur Wainwright were appointed receivers. The company is interested in a number of western copper mines.

REGISTRATION TO COMMENCE THIS MORNING

Beginning this morning, and continuing through Monday and Tuesday, the registrars will be abroad in the land, and if your name is not registered for the general election in November, it will propably be because the committee cannot find you at home. This registration committee will make a house-to-house canvass, and every effort will be made to see that no voter is overlooked.

The registration board is composed of one Republican and one Democrat in each precinct, and will sit on October 4 and 10, and again on the tenth day prior to the election, in November, to register any who were missed in the house-to-house canvass. There are three judges of election in each precinct at the election. The apportionment is two Republicans and one Democrat in odd-numbered precincts, and vice versa in even-numbered precincts.

The Republican registration committee met at the court house last night for the purpose of discussing the best ways and means of getting all Republican voters registered and out to the polls at election. The members of the board were also instructed in the method of taking the registration, in order that there will be no difficulties later, through incorrect registration.

The members of the registration board, together with a list of registration and voting places in each precinct in the city, as certified to the county clerk are as follows:

WARD ONE.

Precinct 1—James Ramsey, Rep.; Sol T. Wolfe, Dem.; 2014 North Nevada avenue

MARKSMANSHIP IS ENCOURAGED

INTEREST IN SHOOTING HAVING REVIVAL.

Many Agencies Contributing to the Development of Skill With Small Arms.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The eleventh annual tournament of the United States Revolver association is now being held in the various large cities of the country. This tournament is held under the auspices of the constituent clubs of the association, and is but one of scores of important agencies for the encouragement of marksmanship with small arms. The National Rifle association of America, with its big meetings at Seagirt and Camp Perry, together with its various state meetings, is accomplishing a vast deal in making good marksmen. For a full generation there have not been so many expert riflemen in the United States as there are today. In the old days, when every man had his trusty flint-lock and could be depended upon to bore out the eye of a squirrel in a tall tree, there was no need of prizes to encourage men to become good marksmen. The game life of the forest and the neighborhood shooting bees did that.

Aside from the revolver and rifle matches there is another agency that is doing much to make the citizens who constitute the unorganized militia of the country, efficient handlers of small arms. This agency is the National Association of Trap-shooters. There are several thousand gun clubs in the United States which have frequent contests, some with clay pigeons, others with live birds, and still others with targets. September is one of the greatest months of the year for trap shooting, and there are no less than 50 local events scheduled for the month. Troy, New York, has an important shoot for today; Bellaires Grove, Missouri, and Lowell, Indiana, for September 25 and 28, Guthrie, Oklahoma, for the 26th and 27th, and Toledo, Ohio, and Decatur, Illinois, for the 27th 28th and 29th.

Neat American Handicap.

The great American handicap, which is the blue ribbon event of the trap shooting world, was held in Chicago in June. More than 300 shooters took part in the various events of the meeting. For the first time in the history of the handicap it was won with a perfect score. Riley Thompson, one of the best amateur marksmen of the United States, made a clean record of 100 straight. His closest competitor was Harvey McMurchey, who made 98 hits out of a possible 100. This was the first time that the handicap was ever lost on so excellent a score. Only once before has first honor reached even as high as the 99 which was second in this shoot. More than 127,000 targets were shot at during the meeting.

All trap shooting events throughout the United States are conducted under the rules of the Interstate association. This was organized a number of years ago, and under its activities nearly every former world-record has been broken. In 1909 many former records were shattered and the year marked a higher order of marksmanship than was ever before displayed. But the successes of 1909 have been eclipsed by those of the present year. Even the women have been displaying unusual skill in the art of shooting, and Mrs. A. Topperwein of San Antonio, Texas, hit 94 targets out of a possible 100.

Boy Phenomenon.

In the shoot held at Betterton, Maryland, the latter part of July, H. S. Wellesbroke set a world's record by shooting 128 targets without a miss, the previous record having been held by J. Howell Hawkins, with 128 straight. Edward E. Hargest, a 12-year-old boy of Baltimore, Maryland, is thought to hold the record for a child of his age. In a recent contest he hit 87 out of 100 at one time and 43 out of 50 at another time. The results of trap shooting with clay pigeons in the United States have been so satisfactory that the English have been led to adopt the clay target, and the sport is growing as popular on the other side as it is in the United States.

In the United States there are two systems of awarding prizes in target shooting. One system is known as the Jack Rabbit and the other as the Money Back. Under the former the entrants are paid according to the scores they make. Under the latter the entrance fee is returned to those who do not win enough prize money to pay for the fee. The experts do not like the Jack Rabbit system, contending that it does not pay them well enough for their skill. But in spite of some dissatisfaction with the prize allotting systems in vogue there never have been so many trap shooters as there are today, nor have the records of the rank and file as well as those of the prize winners been as high as they now are. This shows conclusively that expert marksmanship is answering to the methods of stimulation adopted by the various organizations.

Making Sharpshooters

The object of the National Rifle association of the United States is particularly to encourage marksmanship among individuals who would be needed as sharp shooters in case of war. The association advocates a program which includes the furnishing, by the government, of standard army rifles to those who will use them under proper auspices. It would have the government issue a million such rifles to individual marksmen and thus offer better support to the cause of marksmanship than it now does. It is pointed out that there are at present about 100 universities, colleges and schools in the United States where army officers are detailed and that these institutions have an enrollment in their military departments of about 25,000 students. Of these only 2,239 receive outdoor shooting practice and 9,728 gallery practice. In addition to these public institutions there are 28 private military schools with an enrollment of 2,500. It is the aim of the rifle association to furnish each of these students with a gun and make him as efficient in handling it as a sharp shooter would need to be in case of war.

The officials of the rifle association well may strive to promote efficiency in the handling of small arms, for often the result of a battle, if indeed not the outcome of a war, depends upon the efficiency of the sharp shooter. In the Boer war the highly trained English troops could not meet, on equal terms, the South African farmers who had shouldered their guns in defense of their homes. It was the ability of the Boers as sharp shooters that put the English to such great disadvantage, and forced the Mother Country to use such vast armies in conquering them. In the battle of Gettysburg the Confederate sharp shooters nearly succeeded in turning the tide of battle on the second day. Safely ensconced behind the huge boulders of Devil's Den, they picked off the gunners of the Federal forces on the rocky northern slope of Little Round Top as fast as they sought to man the guns. Thus the northern artillery was rendered almost useless, and it was only by pitting their sharp shooters against those of the Confederacy that the Federals were able to use their artillery effectively on Little Round Top. If this had not been done, the night of the second day certainly would have found Longstreet's men in possession of Little Round Top, the key to the Federal position. Had this stronghold been taken, the story of the victory would in all probability have been a different one.

Few Shots Effective.

It has been calculated by army statisticians that for every man hit in battle with small-arm fire, there are from 3,000 to 5,000 shots fired. It is said that with the increasing distance at which troops engage in battle, due to more efficient equipment being used, the proportion of misses to hits is becoming even greater. In such a situation it becomes all the more necessary that there shall be thorough training of the citizens who are to make up our army in case of future war. Not long ago the Austrian School of Musketry determined to make an exhaustive experiment with a view to ascertaining the influence of fatigue on marksmanship. A squad of men on bicycles rode 65 miles in eight hours, after having shot several rounds at the targets. When they returned they were a weary looking bunch of soldiers, but in the shooting that followed it was disclosed that the strenuous march had affected the accuracy of their aim but little. In the case of raw recruits it was found to be different. They could not shoot nearly so well after a forced march as they were able to do before.

Discard Old Weapons.

Revolver shooting is becoming more and more appreciated in army circles, and this arm is rapidly succeeding the sabre and the lance in the equipment of the cavalry. It has been found that the improvements made in these small arms have brought with them an accuracy of aim heretofore thought impossible.

The sabre and the lance are useful only in the closest hand-to-hand combat, while the revolver or the magazine pistol may be used at a distance of many paces. All nations are equipping their cavalry troops with these light arms, and it is probable that the day is not far distant when the sabre will be one of the things of the past in cavalry equipment.

It has been the claim for many years that the poorest marksmen in the world are to be found on the police forces of the urban communities. There has been much to justify this assertion. But during the last few years in many communities revolver practice has been required of the policemen and prizes given for efficiency. This has greatly stimulated interest among the blue coated fraternity in the art of accurate shooting, and has led prominent police officials of the United States to believe that the day is not far distant when the gun of the average policeman will be less dangerous to the innocent bystander and more dangerous to the criminal.

TOMORROW—THE IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

NEW COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO MEET

F. F. Schreiber, chairman of the El Paso county Republican central committee, yesterday issued a call for the newly elected members of the organization to meet Monday night to discuss plans for the coming general election. The letter, which has been sent to each member, follows:

Dear Sir—As a member of the Republican county central committee, you are certainly deeply interested in the success of the Republican ticket this fall.

I realize fully the responsibility devolving upon the chairman of this committee, but I also realize that success is possible only by and through the earnest support and united co-operation of every member of this committee and of every Republican voter in the county. I therefore respectfully urge you to be present at a meeting of this committee at 8 o'clock p. m., Monday, September 26, to be held in the district court room, Colorad Springs for the purpose of organizing and planning the work for the coming election.

Sincerely,
F. F. SCHREIBER,
Chairman Republican Central Committee.
William Scully, Secretary.

MRS. BEARD MAY BE RELEASED OCTOBER 8

DENVER, Sept. 23.—While refusing Mrs. Electra Beard of this city a pardon today the state board of pardons recommended that the warden of the state prison release her on October 8 when her minimum sentence will expire. It was suggested also that the warden waive the rule requiring that persons paroled in this manner report once a month to him during the period of the maximum of their sentences. However, Mrs. Beard will be amenable to the rule that revives the unserved portion of the previous sentence of paroled prisoners who lapse in their obedience to the law. Mrs. Beard was convicted of embezzling funds of the Children's hospital in this city.

RIPLEY ADMITS TRUTH OF CUMMINS' CHARGE

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 23.—E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe railroad today gave out a statement in answer to the recent charges of Senator Cummins at Peabody, Kan., that the railroads of the country had increased their capitalization three and one-half billion dollars without anything to show for it. The statement says:

"While I have not been able to identify the particular 10 years the senator had in mind, it is undoubtedly true that between 1898 and 1908 the railroads of the country added more than $3 500 000 000 to their capitalization and it is surely untrue that it was done without the investment of independent capital."

ALASKAN STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE AT NOME

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—The steamship Victoria, from Nome, brings news that a three days storm, beginning September 6, did great damage to small vessels, lighters and dredgers at Nome.

Anxiety is felt at Nome for the trading schooner Arctic, which left for the Siberian coast on July 1, and has not been heard from in two months. Richard Byers and his 16-year-old stepdaughter were drowned at the mouth of the Yukon two weeks ago.

CURTISS HAS MISHAP

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 23.—The first aeroplane flights attempted in this vicinity was made this afternoon by Glenn H. Curtiss. He started in his June Bug from a point a mile north of the Allentown fair grounds, intending to make a flight to Philadelphia and return. But he was forced to land, after a flight of less than 10 miles, by the flooding of his engine with oil.

Robert Sherman Chase, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. E. L. Chase and aunt Miss A. J. Sherman has gone to Nevada to become superintendent of a large mill.

PLANS BEING SHAPED

Arrangements were practically completed last night at a meeting of the building committee of St. Paul's Methodist church, for the moving and remodeling of the parsonage, but nothing was done regarding the new church building, although the finance committee is making plans to secure the fund. The committee will hold another meeting in the church Monday evening, and the building committee will meet again with E. L. Draper at 322 South Nevada avenue, at the same time.

BODY OF GARRETT IS POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED

J. B. Corrin of this city yesterday received a letter stating that the body of the man recently killed by a train near Okarche, Okla., has been positively identified as that of Charles H. Garrett, nephew of Edward Garrett, a ranchman near Falcon, and for some months a resident of Colorado Springs According to the letter, the identification was made through the markings on the clothes, which were those of the boy's father, a tailor of Wrexan Wales; laundry marks, a card and a small card case.

Garrett had friends living at Anadarko, Okla., a town about 100 miles from where he was killed; and it is believed he was going to that place to visit them.

BRECKENRIDGE IMPROVED

R. G. Breckenridge of Rio Grande county, who was serving as permanent chairman of the Republican state convention in this city last Tuesday, when stricken with appendicitis, is improving nicely, according to word from St. Luke's hospital in Denver, where he was operated on Wednesday night He was able to serve as chairman only for part of a day.

PIONEERS OF EL PASO COUNTY TO MEET TODAY

Pursuant to a call of the president, H. A Wattson, the annual meeting of the El Paso County Pioneers association will be held this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the corridor of the county court house. The meeting will be for social purposes only, and the afternoon will be spent in hearing experiences of the men and women who lived in the county sufficiently long enough ago to be classed as pioneers. Tea and wafers will be served, and all pioneers are invited

Anyone who has lived in Colorado for 25 years or more, and is now a resident of El Paso county, is qualified to become a member, and is invited to affiliate with the association

INDORSE STEPHEN IN PROCLAMATION

Although indorsements of John B Stephen for Governor have been made in the past by the railroad orders of this city, according to a prominent engineer yesterday, the railroad organizations of all kinds are to indorse him again in proclamation, which will be sent to all the railroad station and shop centers in the state. In addition, the action taken by the State Federation of Labor, which met last summer in Grand Junction, although not a formal indorsement, was most favorable to Senator Stephen, and the labor organizations of this city will meet next week to take action along these lines

Senator Stephen went to Denver yesterday to attend the session of the state legislature

STREET DECORATIONS ARE REPORTED STOLEN

Reports have been received by the police of the theft of several of the streamers and flags which were used to decorate Colorado avenue this week in honor of the Republican state convention in Colorado Springs The decorators will remove the colors today, but considerable mischief has been done already. A business man who contributed to the fund for the decorations caught a young Italian boy pulling a large streamer down, and, after threatening arrest, allowed the lad to go.

OBJECTIONABLE PEOPLE USE VACANT RESIDENCES

Owners and real estate men in charge of several houses near Fountain creek have complained to the police of the midnight drunken rows which have taken place in these vacant dwellings during the last few days. It appears that the houses have also been used for lodgings by tramps, and the police are determined to put a stop to it. It is probable that several arrests will be made in the next few days.

NO FIRES FOR THREE MONTHS IN THIS CITY

No fires in the Colorado City limits for nearly three months, according to Chief Fred Ward, is the new record of which the insurance men, fire department and city officials are proud. The department, although always in the best of trim and experienced in handling fires with a somewhat small equipment, has not had a chance even to empty some of the chemical tanks.

KILLS TWO COYOTES IN CHICKEN HOUSE

J. C McCreary, proprietor of the Colorado City Inn, is the latest addition to huntsmen of this vicinity who are killing "real wild" game in the city limits. He is the possessor of two hides of full-grown coyotes, which ventured too near McCreary's chicken house, where they were killed early one morning several days ago.

CIRCULATE PETITIONS FOR A KINDERGARTEN

Petitions for the establishment of a kindergarten by the city school board were circulated yesterday on the south side by several school patrons, and many names will probably be secured before the next meeting of the school board, on October 4. Although the people have been given but little encouragement by the board, they hope to secure the school.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

The Rev George H. Stuntz and family were the guests at a large and enthusiastic reception given last night at the home of Mrs. George Beavers, 327 Colorado avenue, by the congregation of the Methodist church, of which the Rev. Mr. Stuntz is pastor. The evening was spent in music, recitations and games. A light lunch was served. A number of special social features are being planned for the winter

BIG DELEGATION TO PUEBLO IS WANTED

With the merchants of the city and a committee of five, composed of H. Hutchinson, chairman; O E. Hemenway, H. Masterson, J R Friedline and B M Lathrop, all working to secure a large delegation, it is expected that Colorado Springs will be well represented at the National Irrigation congress at Pueblo next Monday and Tuesday The merchants, under the auspices of the Merchants association, are planning to charter a special car to carry them to the Smelter city. Up to last night it was not known definitely if the plan would carry, although every effort will be made to bring it to a successful issue

The committee of five, which is separate from the merchants, is working along the same line. The idea is to have a delegation of several hundred people from this city make the trip, either in special cars or a special train

If this falls through, those who attend the congress will leave here Monday morning There are two trains available, Denver and Rio Grande No 1 which leaves here at 10 40 a. m. and arrives in Pueblo at 11.52 a. m., and Santa Fe No. 4, leaving here at 10 35 a m. and arriving in Pueblo at 11.56 a m It is requested that those attending take one or the other of these trains. All who intend going should notify either Chairman Hutchinson of the committee, or Alva W. Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce

President Kent of the Real Estate exchange yesterday appointed F D Pastorius and J O. McLain to represent that body at the congress

Arriving in Pueblo Monday, the local delegates will meet at the union depot at noon, to proceed in a body to the Mineral Palace where the first session will be held in the afternoon

Mrs Jacob Wilmert Lincoln, Ill, found her way back to perfect health. She writes "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. BIG PIANO CONTEST CLOSES

Great Interest Was Manifested, and Management Is Highly Pleased.

After 10 days of merry competition, the big piano contest of the Hiltbrand Music Co. of this city came to a close Thursday night Representatives of the daily press were asked to make the winning selections, and they did so, though not without long deliberation and study, for there were nearly 6,000 solutions to consider. After careful study, the judges awarded the prizes as follows. First prize, a fine $375 piano, was awarded to H. A. Allen, 811 North Walnut, second prize, a phonograph and $125 Factory Piano Bond, awarded to Mrs. Ida Nelson, 1202 Colorado avenue, Colorado City, third prize, $115 Factory Piano Bond and phonograph, to Frank Buzby, 120 E. Las Animas, city.

The names of the competitors were all unknown to the judges, as the writing on each exhibit was concealed until after the final decision had been made. That much interest was taken in the contest was not only illustrated by the unexpectedly large number of answers, but by the laborious work done on many of them. Many of these are now on exhibition in the company's warerooms, and all are invited to call and see them. As advertised by the Hiltbrand Music Co., Factory Piano Bonds, issued by the Manufacturers, good for reductions on their pianos, go to many of the fortunate contestants. C. H. Converse, one of the factory's representatives, was present to supervise the concluding features of the contest. He shared the enthusiasm of the local dealer, as evidenced in the following remarks made to a Gazette reporter. "We are highly pleased at the splendid response of the people of Colorado Springs and vicinity. The Hiltbrand Music Co. has been representing us in Colorado for last 12 years. They recently placed orders with us for 150 pianos, and in that way we were interested in assisting and giving the many reductions on pianos through this house. Our sale opens this morning at 9 o'clock, and we have a rare treat for all buyers during the coming week. At present there is a large stock of the finest pianos to select from, so that everyone can find just what they are looking for at greatly reduced prices."

DECISION REVERSED

In the case of William Lennox against John C. Leonard, the United States court of appeals yesterday reversed a decision of Judge Robert E. Lewis, and ruled that coal land should be classed as such or as agricultural land at the time of application for entry. The court's decision upholds the authority of the commissioner of the general land office and the secretary of the interior to enforce the land laws by making proper regulations, but declared that they could not adopt regulations inconsistent with the laws enacted by statute.

MAY WITHDRAW IN FAVOR OF EL PASO

Wanting the American Bankers association for its 1911 convention, San Antonio, Tex finds the dates conflict with those of the International Dry Farming congress, both organizations meeting the week of October 3, the former at Los Angeles and the latter in Spokane Just now those having charge of affairs are discussing the matter of withdrawing from the fight against Colorado Springs and getting in line for the 1912 congress

The merchants of San Antonio have decided they want the bankers, and have made plans to attend their convention at Los Angeles in large numbers, and the special committee on conventions is now urging that San Antonio indorse El Paso for the next Dry Farming congress and send a delegation to Spokane to boost for its sister Texan city.

Secretary Carrington of the San Antonio convention league reports that it will be impossible for the city to care for two big conventions at the same time, and that as El Paso is the headquarters of dry farming in the southwest, the league believes that city should get the 1911 congress El Paso is asked to reciprocate in aiding San Antonio to secure the bankers convention, and there is a merry contest on in the southwest.

Meantime the Colorado Springs people are fighting tooth and nail for the Dry Farming congress next year, and will have its advance men in Spokane before the end of this week to open headquarters.

All Colorado Aids Springs.

That all Colorado is working to secure the 1911 Dry Farming congress for Colorado Springs is shown by the number of letters coming daily into the offices of the Chamber of Commerce. In the last few days a number of new letters have been received, each giving Colorado Springs a hearty indorsement.

The latest communications are from the county commissioners of Otero, Saguache and Baca counties, each publicly indorsing this city for the honor next year. The Trinidad and Julesburg chambers of commerce have also written letters to the same effect.

A visitor in Colorado Springs yesterday was C. R. Root of Denver, executive committeeman of the Dry Farming congress, who was here to confer with the committee which is organizing a delegation to the meeting in Spokane this year. He discussed plans as to the trip, accommodations, etc. He is one of the most influential members of the congress, having been one of its organizers, and having held offices in it every since. He has promised his support to Colorado Springs.

Efforts were made yesterday to hold a caucus of the delegates to the Spokane meeting, but all of them could not be got together. A meeting will be held in a few days, however, at which arrangements incidental to the trip will be discussed.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

In order to offset rumors which have been going the rounds for several weeks to the effect that the Colorado Springs public schools would not be open until Christmas or even later the school board yesterday gave out a statement to the effect that the schools will positively open next Monday morning September 26.

Yesterday there was a steady stream of teachers to the offices of the school board, where they registered for the coming year. The list shows practically every teacher present and ready for work, although there are some yet to arrive from places outside the state. These are expected here today and tomorrow.

Notwithstanding the delay in opening the schools, the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter holidays will be allowed as usual, and a week of the lost time will be made up in June by keeping the schools open seven days later than usual.

The school board has forwarded to the Chicago bonding company the final details in connection with the sale of the school bonds, and it is expected that they will be finally accepted within a week The way will then be clear to let contracts and go ahead with the projected improvements.

There will be a meeting this morning at 9 o'clock at the High School building, of teachers and principals, to organize for the year It will be the first teachers' meeting of the term.

WORKMEN WITHDRAWN

City Claims Builder of Park Lawn Addition Is Failing to Keep His Agreement.

A controversy between A. C. Hahn, builder of the Park Lawn addition, and the city reached a point at yesterday's Council meeting whereby a motion was passed stopping municipal contract work on the addition for the present, so far as laying water mains is concerned.

When the city agreed some months ago to lay the water mains in the Park Lawn addition, it was with the understanding, it is said, that Hahn would put in the sewers and give the city right of way across an unplatted portion of the addition for two sewer mains. This part of the alleged verbal agreement is not being lived up to by Hahn, it is claimed, and accordingly the city has ordered the contractor off the work in that addition. The water main construction gang will begin work on the Cheyenne addition today.

WARD ACQUITTED IN A. P. TOOMBS' COURT

A Jae Ward was acquitted in Justice A P Toombs' court yesterday on a charge of having issued a fraudulent check for $260 on the El Paso National bank The check was used to pay the rent on the McRae cafe, in which Ward was interested It developed at the trial that Ward gave the check on September 2 but that it was not to be presented until September 7 On the latter date creditors took possession of the cafe and its assets, leaving no balance to cover the amount of the check.

STILL SAN RAFAEL STREET

In correction of a general misunderstanding that the City Council has changed the name of San Rafael street to College street without giving interested persons a chance to be heard city officials declared last night that the name of the street has not been changed.

When a petition with the above object in view was presented a few days ago, bearing the names of 24 signers, the only action taken by the Council was to refer the matter to Street Commissioner Lawton The petition is still in committee and no action is contemplated it is said, until those who desire to make formal objection to the proposed change have an opportunity to do so.

You can't tell by first looks which is the $15.00 rug and which is the $25.00 one. That's where our reputation is worth something to you and us.

What the Press Agents Say

"THE SPENDTHRIFT" TODAY—MATINEE AND NIGHT

What is your income? Are you spending more than you earn? Does your wife manifest any interest in your earning capacity? These and similar vital questions are suggested to every theater-goer who witnesses Porter Emerson Browne's startling drama "The Spendthrift" which Frederic Thompson will present at the Opera House this afternoon and evening only. Prices are Matinee parquet $1.00 dress circle 75 cents balcony 50 cents and gallery 25 cents. Night Parquet $[illegible].00 dress circle $1.50 balcony $1.00 [illegible] cents.

No play [illegible] so widespread [illegible] discussion [illegible] as has The Spendthrift. It is a story that hits the bullseye of domestic extravagance and gives every man and woman of every class food for thought.

"The Spendthrift" closed a four months run at the Hudson theater, New York, in June and then resumed its engagement at the same playhouse early in August.

For its presentation here Frederic Thompson has assembled a cast of particular strength and general excellence headed by Doris Mitchell and the play will be staged in an exquisitely artistic manner. Its author Porter Emerson Browne, has written an intensely dramatic story around a plot that has a strong moral that strongly impresses every theater-goer.

It concerns the wasteful spending of money by an extravagant wife who ultimately brings financial ruin on herself and on her husband. The play comes here with a record of a season's run in New York, where it is still playing to crowded houses. It has been indorsed by the theater-going public, the press, the clergy and all classes who appreciate a timely drama admirably constructed and trenchantly written.

BILLY CLIFFORD

BILLY CLIFFORD COMING

Billy (Single) Clifford, the comedian, is headed this way. He is blazing a trail of laughter across the country, and he will be at the Opera House Monday with his new vehicle which he is pleased to call a musical fantasy in two acts. Those who do not know what a musical fantasy is will be enlightened when The Girl the Man and the Game arrives. For the sake of enlightenment let it be stated here that a musical fantasy is a farce with much music interspersed. In this particular case the central figure is a rollicking young blade who borrows a wife and child to deceive his doting old uncle with money. Naturally he gets himself into all manner of scrapes and his antics during this time furnish many a hearty laugh. Mr Clifford plays the role of the gay young man and he not only affords much fun but he also sings a dozen good songs.

Billy (Single) Clifford's new starring vehicle might be called a musical farce in two long laughs. It is entitled The Girl the Man and the Game and it is in two parts. The plot is a consistent one in which there are many ludicrous situations and many laughable complications. To add to the interest Mr Clifford offers a dozen new songs that are fresh and bright and breezy and full of just the sort of melody that the public demands.

Seats are now selling. Prices are Parquet, $1.[illegible]0 dress circle $1.00 balcony, 75 cents and gallery 50 cents.

HENRY MILLER

"There was a brighter twinkle than usual in the lights in the Great White Way last night because a new dramatist had presented his first comedy 'Her Husband's Wife,' at the Garrick theatre," wrote the critic of the New York Telegram, "and a grateful audience had chuckled and grinned and by the fall of the curtain on the first act was roaring with sheer delighted laughter. Mr Thomas has evolved several deliciously comic complications and his play after the first 10 minutes of preparation moves forward with a delightful swing and holds an amused audience with ever-varying interest. The comedy is wholesome and hearty and a refreshing contrast to some recent specimens of theatrical humor. Henry Miller whose power as a comedian has long been recognized appears as a kindly uncle who watches the destiny of the group of young people involved in the comedy. Needless to say his work was smooth and effective. This admirably balanced comedy has five other roles of equal importance and Mr Miller evidently selected his cast with great care."

Mr Miller and his New York and Chicago cast will appear in Her Husband's Wife at the Opera House on Tuesday for one night only. Seats are now selling. Prices are Parquet $[illegible] dress circle $1.50 balcony $1.00 [illegible]

[illegible] New York [illegible] ment, is also clean as the newest broom, and it will help to sweep away memories of many a disappointment of earlier months. Henry Miller is himself again in the role of John Belden, the bachelor who visits his medicine-bewitched niece, and in her confession to him of her coming death, he lends a delightful cleverness to the task of curing her, by the ruse of believing her. The comedy is one of the daintiest and most laughable now on the stage. It will be added to the list of the best attractions of the year."

S. R. O. SIGN TODAY AT MAJESTIC THEATER

If the S. R. O. sign is not called into use at the popular Majestic at today's performances, it will be difficult to explain in view of the record-breaking attendance thus far this week, but the strength and popularity of the show which ends its engagement tonight is a guarantee of flattering patronage on the closing day.

Those delightful actors Maggie Le Clare and James Casey in "The Irish Tenants" have won the hearts of all and their sketch is one that will linger in the memory long after they have gone. It teaches a lesson—a lesson in human sympathy and none who sees it is not the better for it. No more perfect character impersonation was ever seen on a stage than that of Miss Le Clare as the Irish tenement dweller with a drunken husband and a baby and while there is pathos in the sketch it is full of laughter.

So is the specialty of Miss Helen Stuart as Polly Wiggles in Society, so is the dancing, singing and talking offering of the charming Antoinette Norman and the elongated James Toney and delightful also for its singing, dancing and comedy is the ragtime extravaganza of Josephine Saxton and the Dixie Kids assisted by Muriel Ringold while the bassoon solo of Earl Pringolf is a musical feature. The Majestiscope and the concert orchestra offerings are thoroughly enjoyable completing an immensely entertaining bill.

ALL FEATURE PROGRAM AT THE LYRIC AND CRYSTAL

The headliner is The Road to Richmond with Jennie Carrol, sister of Lieut Carrol as his heroine. The scenes are all in old Virginia and covering that period from 1860 to 1865. Pretty Jennie Carrol falls in love with her brother's comrade when her brother brings him home on furlough. They are both officers in Uncle Sam's army prior to the war. When that dread event happens separation ensues and the meeting of the comrades in battle. The final reunion between the northern soldier and his southern sweetheart form the story interest of this latest Selig war picture. Old in theme truly but told as Selig tells them and it holds the interest from the first. It's a big production a clear story and will please both northerner and southerner as the war scenes are only introduced when they have a natural bearing on the story. The picture [illegible]. No bigger and certain no better war picture has ever been produced.

If you don't care to vote for yourself throw your votes to some one else who may profit thereby. $100 in sight for somebody. J H Bridger is the only grocer in town who is giving these votes away.

CAVES OF "ARABIAN NIGHTS" ARE RIVALED BY COLORADO'S CAVERNS

There is no one who has not thrilled responsive to the charms and beauties of the underground caverns so vividly described in the quaint passages of the "Arabian Nights." From the detail of Aladdin's wanderings in buried chambers of porphyry and alabaster to the adventures of Ali Baba in the tragic cave of the Forty Thieves this most enthralling of fiction's classics fairly teems with reference to subterranean passages and rooms. And there is a logical, vital reason for it. The story-tellers of old time knew just how much gripping interest there was to the human mind in Nature's own underground castles. They couldn't take each reader through the caverns so they described them as best they could.

But for everyone who reads this, there is the opportunity to explore for himself and with his own eyes to see every nook and cranny of one of the most wonderful caverns in the wide world. The Cave of the Winds with its 14 splendid chambers is practically at your doors. Each one of the rooms is an experience in itself. Widely varied geological formations ranging from snowy alabaster and glittering crystal to granite of darkest ebony delight the eye at every turn. Live stalagmites and stalactites are continuing their formation in many of the rooms. For years after the visitor will remember the enthralling beauty of the "Crystal Palace" and the wonderful formations of "Gypsum Alcove." Intelligent guides conduct every party through the entire cave explaining and classifying the various geological structures and strata while every foot of the way is brilliantly lighted with electric searchlights.

The cave is but a short distance from Manitou at the head of beautiful Williams canon easily reached on foot or by carriage and is open both day and night.

Have you tried those fine wheat cakes and syrup served every morning at the "Cafeteria." Best in the city.

THE INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

Will you kindly give a simple explanation of the initiative and referendum? Yesterday I asked no less than six men, what is this initiative and referendum that is causing so much talk. Not one could explain. One man, who wore a badge, said, "It's just candidate talk and buncombe." Hence [illegible] need of education before voting time.

The terms of initiative and referendum laws vary in different states and cities, but in a general way they may be defined thus. The initiative is a law giving the people the right to initiate or bring up for enactment any proposed legislation by petition; whereupon the law-making body (legislature or council, as the case may be) must either enact the measure or submit it to popular vote at an election, and if a majority of the vote is cast in its favor it thereupon becomes a law. A referendum law is a provision requiring that a measure already enacted shall not become effective if, on petition, it is first referred to the people at an election and a majority of the vote is cast against it. Both of these measures are hard to define in few words and further explanation is necessary to a full understanding of their workings.

The Colorado Springs charter contains provisions for the initiative and referendum which have been in full effect since the adoption of that instrument, though no use has ever been made of them. According to the charter, any proposed ordinance may be submitted to the Council by a petition signed by not less than 15 percent of the voters. The Council must then, within twenty days, either pass the ordinance without alteration, or submit it to popular vote at an election. If a general municipal election is to be held within ninety days the measure will be voted on at that time, otherwise a special election must be held within thirty days. If a majority of the vote is cast for the ordinance it thereupon becomes a law, otherwise it is lost.

The referendum provision of the charter is of [illegible] nature. It requires that if, within ten days after the passage of an ordinance, a petition protesting against it shall be submitted with the signatures of 15 per cent of the voters, the measure shall thereupon be suspended from going into effect. The Council shall then either repeal the measure or submit it to popular vote, as in the case of the initiative, and with similar effect.

THE LAW AS PROPOSED FOR COLORADO. This brief outline of the procedure of the initiative and referendum in local affairs will give a fair idea of what it is proposed to do in the state at large. However, it is necessary to amend the constitution of the state in order to adopt the initiative and referendum, so the present extra session of the Legislature passed a law providing for the submission, as an amendment, at the forthcoming November election, of what is known as the Oregon law. In Oregon the initiative and referendum law has been in effect since June, 1902, and the measure is generally regarded as a model of its kind. The initiative petition requires the signatures of only 8 percent, and the referendum petition those of only 5 percent of the voters, so it is much easier to start the machinery working than if a higher percentage of signatures is required. Of course there is danger in fixing the percentage too low, for thereby the demagogue and the agitator is given a chance to keep the community in turmoil over any law that may or may not suit his [illegible]. But it has been found, after an eight-year trial in Oregon, that the percentages named fully satisfy the requirements of a just and workable law, and our Legislature probably could not have done better than copy the Oregon measure.

The arguments in behalf of the initiative and referendum are well set forth by Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, in his speech on "Popular vs. Delegated Government," delivered in the Senate May 5, last, a copy of which can be had either by addressing the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, or from Senator Bourne, Portland, Ore. Lack of space forbids lengthy quotations from the address, but we insert one or two illuminating extracts.

HOW IT WORKS IN OREGON. Since that amendment was adopted, the people of Oregon have voted upon 32 measures submitted to them under the initiative, 5 submitted under the referendum, and 4 referred to the people by the legislature. Nineteen measures were submitted at one election. That the people acted intelligently is evident from the fact that in no instance has there been general dissatisfaction with the result of the vote. The measures submitted covered almost every phase of legislation, and many of them were bills of considerable length.

Anticipating the objection that direct legislation is expensive to the state, I will say that the submission of a total of 32 measures at three different elections in Oregon has cost the state $25,000, or an average of about $781 for each measure. At the election in 1908 there were 19 measures submitted at a cost to the state of $12,362, or an average of $651 each. Five of these 19 measures were submitted without argument. Upon the other 14 there were 15 arguments submitted for which the authors paid the cost, amounting to $3,157.

I have no hesitancy in saying that the people of Oregon feel satisfied that they have received full value for the $25,000 they have spent for the submission of measures under the initiative and referendum. The only persons who raise the question of cost are those who would be opposed to direct legislation if it were free of cost. I think I could cite numerous instances of laws passed by the legislature which cost the people much more than $25,000 without any tangible return, and perhaps could cite a few measures which had been defeated by legislatures with resultant loss to the people of many times $25,000. The cost of legislation can not always be measured in dollars.

The people are not only intelligent but fair and honest. When the initiative and referendum was under consideration it was freely predicted by enemies of popular government that the power would be abused and that capitalists would not invest their money in a state where property would be subject to attacks of popular passion and temporary whims. Experience has exploded this argument. There has been no hasty or ill-advised legislation. The people act calmly and deliberately and with that spirit of fairness which always characterizes a body of men who earn their living and acquire their property by legitimate means. Corporations have not been held up and blackmailed by the people, as they often have been by legislators. "Pinch bills" are unknown. The people of Oregon were never before more prosperous and contented than they are today, and never before did the state offer such an inviting field for investment of capital.

In addition to the initiative and referendum Oregon has the recall, direct primaries, the Australian ballot, election of United States Senators by the people, and a model corrupt practices act. This is progressive legislation, radical legislation, if you please, but it is good legislation. The sooner Colorado gets the same kind of laws the sooner will it be rescued from the corrupt influences that now dominate its politics and its government.

CHANGING STREET NAMES.

THE action of the Council in voting to change the name of San Rafael Street to "College" Street is open to the severest criticism. We understand that it was done at the instance of thirty-five people who live on or near the street, but in a letter to The Herald-Telegraph Mr. Godfrey Kissell remarks that although he owns 100 feet of frontage on that street he neither saw nor was asked to sign the petition. However this may be, it certainly is a presumptuous thing to change the name of a street—a name which dates from the first opening of the thoroughfare, merely to gratify the whim of a handful of people. Residence on a certain street does not carry with it a proprietary interest in its name; that is a matter which concerns the entire population of the city.

The Spanish and Indian names which were given to the streets in the older portions of the city possess an individuality and charm peculiar to themselves. They give Colorado Springs a distinction enjoyed by few other cities. What is more tiresome than the endless succession of names of trees and presidents given the streets of every city in the land?—the inevitable "Oak," "Pine," "Maple," "Washington," "Jefferson," "Lincoln," etc. There is nothing distinctive about them, only the same dreary commonplaceness which fits or misfits all cities and towns alike. And "College Street" is in the same class, for every town in the country that boasts a college of any sort has also its "College Street."

The only contention that can be advanced against the Spanish and Indian street names in Colorado Springs is that some of them are not easily pronounced on first acquaintance, but this objection is scarcely worth considering. There is not a word in the language that can be pronounced until one has learned how, and it surely is not a strain on a normal mind to remember that Tejon is pronounced Te-hone, with the accent on the last syllable. The only mistake made in the naming of Colorado Springs streets was when the original system of nomenclature was departed from in naming the newer highways in the North End and on the East Side.

There is no good reason for changing the name of San Rafael Street, and it occurs to us that if the Council is so tremendously concerned in doing something to the streets it might far better devote a little energy to improving their condition, rather than meddle with their names.

BARGAINS IN WARSHIPS.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

The English press laments the fact that while the German government has succeeded in disposing of two obsolescent battleships to Turkey for $4,500,000, the British admiralty has just let two better ones go for a mere $250,000. What will the English say when they hear of the latest feat accomplished by our own navy department? During the Spanish war it bought a private yacht for $117,500. This yacht, more lately the gunboat Hornet, it has now sold for $5,100. Is the Hornet really worthless? Far from it. She lately went, via New Orleans to Nicaragua, with a cargo of arms. What is worthless, then? The trading capacity of our naval officials apparently.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

From the Kansas City Star.

If you adopt a progressive platform not a cent for the campaign fund.

If you adopt a standpat platform the bar'l will be opened.

Stated in Kansas language, that was the ultimatum from the national congressional committee to the Republican party council at Jefferson City.

How does this money reach the national congressional committee?

It comes from the beneficiaries of the tariff and other special privilege.

How does it reach them?

From the public, whom Special Privilege permits them to gouge.

And what was the answer of the Republican party council?

Read the tariff plank of the platform.

CART BEFORE HORSE.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

A New England railway president is quoted as declaring, "People do not realize that prosperity depends on the prosperity of the railroads." Which exhibits the perseverance of that old quality of getting the cart before the horse.

Of course the prosperity of all interests is mutually interdependent. But as this doctrine is the fashionable one, to justify the advance in railway rates, at a juncture when the tendency of staples uncontrolled by monopolies is downward, and is intended to disseminate the dogma that the prosperity of the railroad is the fundamental source of the prosperity of the rest of the country, it is pertinent to mark it as a vast humbug.

There are two ways of showing the utterly unfounded nature of that sophism. For one thing the railroads have during the past five years, enjoyed the greatest prosperity they ever knew. Their net earnings, dividends and surplus have been the greatest they ever had. Yet the people at large, during a large part of that period, have not enjoyed uninterrupted prosperity. At this very juncture the railroad business is enjoying a higher degree of prosperity than the average business and industry of the country. On the other hand there have been notable periods when railroad profits were much smaller than now, but the general prosperity was more universal.

The other test is suggested by the following question. What sane railroad management would run a railroad through a stretch of country devoid of population and incapable of sustaining population? None. Every man of them knows that the basic cause of railroad prosperity is enough prosperity for the working population to induce them to increase their production and to permit them to increase their consumption, making railroad traffic both ways.

It doesn't matter what you say, if you do wrong from day to day. Your moral lectures may be sound, with gems of thought they may abound, but when you spring them folks will grin, and say, "Old Nick's rebuking sin!" Sometimes I see my neighbor do a thing that jars me through and through; and I swell up with virtue's fire, my heart is filled with noble ire, and to myself I say, "I trow, I must rebuke my neighbor now!" When he performs some scurvy deed, that makes my moral bosom bleed, it my duty to protest, and plant some precepts in his breast!" And while I'm training for the job, an Inner Voice begins to throb, and whisper in my spirit's ear: "You're too blamed virtuous, I fear; it jars you horribly to see your neighbor rob an apple tree, or give the melon graft a boost, or lift a chicken from its roost; but you, whom these deeds make so sore, have done the same thing o'er and o'er!" And then I sort o' shrivel up, and take a large enameled cup and pour ice water on my head, and leave those moral things unsaid. The man who preaches and rebukes about men's little sins and flukes, should have a record snowy white; his deeds should make his words seem right.

SAYING AND DOING.

WALT MASON.

Copyright, 1910, by George Matthew Adams.

The Daily Chit Chat

I have evolved a slogan for housewives to be used during the fall housecleaning.

Housekeepers who observe that festival, please attend. I don't know whether you'll like it or not, but here it is:

"Clear house as well as clean house!"

How does that appeal to you as a slogan?

It seems to me if every housewife in the land would adopt that for her fall housecleaning it would be a happier land.

A newspaper friend of mine was recently sent out to get up an article on the necessity or non-necessity of this fall upheaval.

Some of the women whom she interviewed indulged. Some didn't. One who didn't, in explaining her freedom from the habit, let fall such a pearl of wisdom—no, "nugget of good common sense" would describe it better—that I borrowed it.

"In our house we aim to keep clean not to become clean," she said, "and one of our methods of keeping clean is not to have the house cluttered up with any unnecessary things. I thoroughly believe that if thinking women would make up their minds to have nothing in their houses but useful things, and those of value because of association, so-called drudgery would diminish to the vanishing point, and this semiannual upheaval would not be needed."

Now, housewives, please don't just say: "Here is some more of that housekeeping talk from someone who doesn't know anything about it," and refuse to read any further.

Please be open-minded and unprejudicedly consider if it isn't possible that the lady was very right, and then quiz how well your house stands her test.

That is, how much there is in your home besides useful things and those that have associations?

Useful, of course, ought to include beautiful, for beauty is certainly useful. A well-made chair rests your body. A truly beautiful object rests your eye.

With that defintion of useful, test one room in your house. If it's an average house, I know just about what the result will be. Why not make the object of the fall cleaning to make it capable of passing that test?

I know a very sensible woman who one day decided that she was being possessed by her possessions instead of possessing them. Thereupon, she went through her house, and standing before each object, asked herself if she were getting her troubles' worth of utility and pleasure out of it. If she had to say no, she got rid of the object, and, according to her testimony, she lived happier ever afterwards.

One of the greatest tendencies of life is accumulation. In many ways it is a good tendency. In other respects it is bad and needs to be checked, and this is one of them.

To know how to throw off, as well as accumulate, is one of the needs of a happy life. If you lack that ability, why not try this very fall to acquire it?

In other words, instead of letting your housecleaning be the regulation taking out and putting back, why not adopt the slogan,

"Clear house as well as clean house."

RUTH CAMERON.

LIFE LINES

A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY IN EPIGRAM
—[illegible]

Do you want to be governed by the judgment of another and lean your own manhood upon his opinion? Down you tumble when your supports crumble as crumble they must.

Eliminate time and space and we have only eternity left, eternity is infinite conception of the now while finite man circumscribes his life with time and space.

Positive purpose gives poise to man; man intent on accomplishment always attains and although often hindered never complains.

Do you want something and do you wish for better things? Substitute a will for your wish and you must strive for what you want; you can't pursue without purpose and success is never given till you have unselfishly striven.

Man's way through life is a wide open way filled with strife; but with ability added to his account man can easily mount to famed fortune's open door.

The fat job with the big pay will come when you know the way to pull profits in faster to your observing paymaster.

Your successes are just what you make them; the man who wants most gets the best in just the ratio that he tries and the man who does not know what he wants gets very little before he dies.

Sorrow has a touch that softens and helps to sweeten the forthcoming joy; without sorrow to him given, man's sympathy for his fellowmen would be shallow indeed.

There is no excuse for a watch not running correctly after it leaves a repairman's hands. Yet how many times have you had to return your watch to incompetent repairmen for further attention before it would run properly?

Our watch repair department will gladly tell you the trouble with your watch and the cost of repairing it. When the work is finished to the repairman's satisfaction you will have no further trouble with your watch.

You needn't leave your watch such a great while. It is very rarely we keep a watch a week and in most cases our watches are not kept here more than three days. And it is very rarely we have a watch come back for further attention.

If you give our watchmaking department a trial you will have better satisfaction from your watch than you have ever had before.

L. J. PHILLIPS KILLED

Word has been received here of the death of Leon J. Phillips, son of Ivy Phillips, who lived in Colorado Springs 12 years ago, when he was proprietor of a large sheep ranch northeast of the city. The young man, who was only 22 years old, was a graduate this year of the Yale Scientific school, and had been employed in the signal department of the Pennsylvania railroad. He was killed while at work at Altoona, Pa. The family lives at New Milford, Conn.

OOZ TO TAKE ON ELECTRICS OF DENVER

The local admirers of Irving Hastgs, the clever, all around ballplayer ho, by his twirling and hitting, has en one of the mainstays of the Zoos is season, will have probably their st chance to see him in action toorrow afternoon when the Zoos go gainst the White City team of Denir at Zoo park in the final swatfest the season. Hastings will do the nging, with Bert Siddons, the popur college player, receiving his bends, and the visitors, although one of e strongest teams in Denver, will be cky to connect with his delivery.

Hastings' star work at the bat this ar has attracted wide attention and is freely predicted that next season ill find him wearing a league unirm in case he decides to break into e professional game. Two or three hers of the Zoo bunch of sluggers ave been watched by managers of ague teams and may not be here anher year.

The Zoos will present pretty nearly eir regular lineup, with Hastings d Siddons on the points. Counts on ird, Gilstrom at short, McClurg at cond, Diamond in left and Gall in nter, while on the first sack Reilly, former Cripple Creek star, who ayed phenomenal ball with the Zoos Cheyenne recently, will probably ivort. Reilly is a first-sacker and icker whose work will be a revelaon to the local fans. For the right ardener another fast man will be seired as the locals purpose to wind up eir successful year with another ictory.

The first game of the double-header romises to bring out some fast ball, the best players of this city and olorado City have been picked for the vo teams, and there is intense rivalry etween them. With favorable weather ne of the biggest crowds of the seaon is certain as the baseball bug is ill on the job despite the approach f the football season.

Football Star Drinks Poison

DENVER, Sept. 23.—A fit of absentmindedness nearly cost Frank Green, a star Denver university football player, his life, when he drank a poisonous solution that had been given him to use externally. The coach of the football squad and one of the college physicians discovered his condition in time to remove the mixture from his stomach before it killed him.

Green, in playing the practice games, had received a cut on one of his arms. The cut resisted all his efforts to make it heal, and he feared that he had been poisoned. When Coach Koehler was making his rounds of the men in the training house, Green asked him for something to apply to his cut. Koehler gave him a bichloride solution, telling him to bathe the arm with this. Green had been studying very hard, and his memory was overtaxed. He drank the solution.

In a few minutes the student was in such agony that a doctor had to be called. Coach Koehler came also, and discovered that Green had taken the poison internally. Prompt treatment was given, and the young men soon began to improve. Today he has had one continuous reception at his bedside, as he is very popular with the students at the university.

COLLEGE GOLF FINALS SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

MANCHESTER, Mass, Sept. 23.—Harvard and Yale will battle tomorrow for the individual intercollegiate golf championship, F. C. Davidson of Harvard and R. E. Hunter of Yale, being the survivors of today's play on the links of the Essex Country club. Hunter came through to final round by defeating the present intercollegiate champion, Albert Seckel of Princeton, 3 up and 2 to play.

Davidson won his place by defeating C. C. Stanley of Yale, 1 up.

CHASE CLEARED OF "QUITTING" CHARGE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—An unofficial exoneration of Hal Chase of the charges made against him by Manager George Stallings was issued late tonight by President Ban Johnson of the American league, following a conference with Frank Farrell, owner of the New York team. Mr. Johnson said:

"Stallings has utterly failed in his accusations against Chase. He has tried to besmirch the character of a sterling player. Anybody who knows Hal Chase knows that he is not guilty of the accusations made against him, and I am happy to say that the evidence of the New York players, given Vice President Somers this morning, 'showed Stallings up.'"

The official decision will be issued tomorrow or Sunday by Mr. Farrell.

SIX PLAYERS JOIN THE NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE

CINCINNATI, Sept 23.—President Herrmann of the national baseball commission, stated today that he has in his possession copies of contracts offered by the new baseball league in process of formation, signed by six players of National and American league teams.

This developed during a conversation in regard to Promoter D. A. Fletcher's plan to play a series of games with two all-star major league clubs this fall in defiance of an order issued by the national commission prohibiting such a series. The contracts in question call for a bonus of $10,000 to be presented to the players in the form of a certified check in February and to be cashed when the league becomes an actuality. At the end of three or five years the players become free agents.

It is believed that the players who have already signed up are to be managers of teams in the new league and that the bonuses to be offered other players will be smaller.

Practice for the Grand Prize race on the Long Island parkway will begin on October 4. Drivers in both contests will be permitted to practice daily, except Sundays, between the hours of 5 and 8 o'clock in the morning.

$1,000 A DAY "UXTRY" BEYOND POWER OF DEMOCRATS TO STOP

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Sept. 23.—Members of the general assembly are consulting authorities to ascertain if there is not some power to stop a legislature called in special session. There does not seem to be any power within the body itself to secure an adjournment; it keeps grinding along, day after day, doing comparatively nothing.

Yesterday the house passed the public service commission bill, the only attempt at legislation in that body since the passage of the initiative and referendum bill, several weeks ago. And since the public service commission bill was passed, the time in committee of the whole has been used entirely in discussing the constitutionality of the railway commission bill sent over from the senate. At the other end of the capitol, in the senate chamber, the time has been spent in so amending a house bill that its own author will disown it, and in discussion of a bill providing for the payment of the salaries of members and employes.

Diligent inquiry cannot develop that there is any definite plan for either the enactment of any bills or for an adjournment of the special session. It has become the custom to predict that the two bodies will adjourn "Saturday night of next week," a time as illusive as "tomorrow which never comes."

Certain members hold that the constitutional provision which limits the regular sessions of an assembly to 90 days, can be held to apply to a special session, so that this body MUST adjourn at the close of the ninetieth day of the session. The members who state this view are not lawyers, and they cannot get the lawyer members to agree with them.

Assembly Dazed.

The assembly appears to be dazed by the way the Republican state convention took a stand for progressiveness and named a ticket in keeping with the platform—there is no other way to account for the absolute lack of activity or even plan. The majority of the majority in the senate has no wish to openly assist Governor Shafroth in his campaign for re-election—that much is assured—but what is meant by the continued and repeated delay cannot be definitely stated. Mr. Stephen supports so many of the same things as does Governor Shafroth that it can hardly be the senate wishes to give him any more comfort than it does the candidate of its own majority side.

One factor from outside that appears to be having some effect is the "insurgent" movement in Denver county, whereby the "insurgent" Republicans, the "insurgent" Democrats and the Citizens' party people are preparing to select an independent list of candidates for the legislature. This movement is against the Republican machine and the Democratic machine, and is made up of voters who seem to be equally friendly with the two candidates for Governor. Its announced object is to try to insure the defeat of machine politicians so bound to the corporation interests that they are pledged to defeat any sort of progressive legislation.

Interests Up in the Air.

The Democratic machine in Denver county could be induced to support the Democratic state ticket if this independent movement for a legislative ticket were abandoned. Having lost the state organization, the Democratic machine in Denver would like to retain the county and legislative control here. The question also agitates the machine controllers of both parties which candidate for Governor shall they favor. No comfort can be extracted from either platform. If the Democratic machine leaves Shafroth, it cannot well hope for comfort in the Republican camp with Stephen for leader and the Republican machine men can find no particular advantage to be gained in leaving Stephen to go to Shafroth. So the representatives of these interests in the legislature appear to be lying quiet waiting for orders from headquarters.

Meanwhile, the assembly adjourns from day to day at an expense of over $1,000 per diem to the taxpayers.

May Mean New Bill.

After having debated the bill amending the railroad commission law so as to take away the fault rendering it unconstitutional as given in an opinion of the district bench of Denver county a Republican member of the house today asked of the majority members if it was not an unusual proceeding to amend an unconstitutional law. In other words would not such an attempt prove useless in the end. This set them all to thinking and it was decided to postpone further action until Monday and give time for an opinion from the attorney general.

The senate today passed, on second reading, a bill appropriating $75,000 from the general fund to defray expenses of the session. The measure will be brought up for third reading Monday, to which day the senate adjourned.

ROBERTSON IS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 23.—George Robertson, the automobile driver, was thrown from his automobile while taking a trial spin this morning on the Long Island motor speedway. He was unconscious when picked up and was rushed to a hospital.

Robertson was going at an estimated rate of 70 miles an hour in the new Benz car which he was to drive in the Vanderbilt cup race, a week from tomorrow, and which he was giving an initial try out. When he struck the Massapequa curve, considered the most dangerous on the course, the car gave a jump, swerved from the course and was completely overturned.

Robertson and Stephen Reynolds, a New York man whom he was carrying as a passenger, were thrown thirty feet or more clear of the wreckage.

Both Robertson and Reynolds were unconscious when another car came along and they were picked up. Reynolds was found to be suffering from internal injuries. A hasty examination caused the physicians to fear that Robertson's injuries were serious if not fatal. He appeared to be suffering from a bad scalp wound, a sprained or fractured arm, concussion of the brain and possible internal injuries.

FOUL CRIME REVEALED BY FINDING OF BODY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—The body of Miss Eva Swan, a stenographer, 26 years old, formerly a school teacher of Paso Robles, Cal., was found tonight buried in a lot in the rear of a vacant house of Eureka street.

The girl had been missing since April 20. From information which came to the police today it is thought that she met her death shortly after that time in the office of Dr. James Grant on Golden Gate avenue.

Dr. Grant is in the city prison tonight and the police are looking for William Sachs, his assistant. Miss Mary Messersmith, a nurse employed by Dr. Grant, also is held. [illegible] will make any statement.

$1,000,000 PACKING PLANT FOR EL PASO

EL PASO Tex., Sept 23.—Announcement was made here today by Morris and company the packers of Chicago, of the purchase in Mexico of 1,250,000 acres of land, which is to comprise one of the largest ranches in the world. The tract reaches within a few miles of this city, on the Mexican side of the river. At the same time announcement was made that a $1,000,000 packing plant would be established here for the purpose of converting the products of the ranch into food staples.

FALL RIVER PLANT TO RESUME OPERATION

FALL RIVER Mass Sept 23.—Announcement was made at the offices of the American Printing company today that the plant would resume operations next week. The plant has been idle 16 weeks, and it is figured that 1,600,000 pieces of printed cloth have been withheld from the market in consequence.

The city of Alameda Cal has put in commission a combined police patrol and ambulance. It is a 56-horse power machine and will accommodate 12 persons.

WEIGHT IS STILL A FOOTBALL FACTOR

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Walter Camp, athletic adviser of Yale, who stopped off here yesterday on his way to San Francisco, believes that "beef" is still a powerful factor in the makeup of a winning football team, notwithstanding the fact that the new rules provide for a more open game.

"It is true that there is more chance for a light, fast man to make an eleven under the revised code than formerly," explained Mr. Camp, "but weight will still be a powerful factor in the line, and the light back will be working under a handicap in smashing into a defense of heavy forwards. Weight is still a potential factor in the makeup of a winning eleven, and those who contend that the new rules require players of 'beef,' are partially right in their contention.

"I was greatly surprised when I learned that the east and west had practically put the same interpretations on the new rules," said Camp. "When I learned of the interpretations of the big eight coaches and officials, I discovered that there was little at variance in the two sections of the country in the rules 'interpretation.'"

PRESIDENT TAFT MAY ATTEND WORLD SERIES

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.—President Taft will be among those present at the world's championship series at Philadelphia if he can arrange the affairs of his office to permit of the trip. Chairman Hermann of the national commission has received word from the President to this effect.

SPRINGS MAY GET WESTERN LEAGUE CLUB

DENVER, Sept. 23.—Colorado Springs is the likely successor to Topeka in the Western league of the season of 1911. No official announcement to that effect has been made yet, but the word had gone forth quietly, and at the present time officials of the league are circulating among baseball fans in Little Lunnon in an effort to get some popular player or sportsmen to take up the proposition.

During the last years that the Western league had a franchise in that town, the team made a financial failure. By those in close touch with the affairs of the league, it is believed that the unpopularity of the owner was the direct contributing cause.

Topeka has made a bad failure this year. Joplin has been mentioned, but the town is not well enough known in the opinion of league officials. In addition, a team at Colorado Springs would furnish Denver with a close mate for the schedule making and would split up the cost of the prairie trip. Local officials are known to be in favor of locating at the Springs, and Big Bill Everett has been mentioned as a probable owner. President O'Neill is looking over the situation now, although a definite announcement is not expected for some time yet.

COMANCHE PLUME FIND WILL PAY HANDSOMELY

Lessees Follow Rich Seam and Open Three-Foot Vein El Paso Drill Hole Progresses.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 23.—Ore has been opened up on the western slope of Battle mountain, on the property of the Comanche Plume Mining company, the Mountain Goat claim, by lessees Heller and Richards of Victor, who at one time were employed by former lessees on this property. Securing their lease about two weeks ago, the two miners determined to prospect in an old stope in which a knife-blade seam of high-grade sylvanite had been previously exposed and prospected. With 10 days of exploitation, these miners have exposed three feet of vein matter that will pay handsomely for the breaking, and the lessees expect to open up the shoot from which the feeder originated while drifting on the vein. The Comanche Plume company's property has lain idle since last spring.

Unwater Property.

The lessees on the Keener Gold Mining company's estate, in Eclipse gulch, have lowered the water so as to permit of prospect work, and will soon have the workings dry. The installation of a pump would have saved the leasing company great expense.

Down 100 Feet.

The churn drill contractors at the El Paso mine report the 100-foot mark reached and passed. With the churn working in solid formation, the difficulties experienced when drilling through waste, steel plates and other foreign material no longer obtain, and the progress is satisfactory to the contractors and the mining company's management

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC

Mrs F Marti, St Joe, Mich, says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house. Sold by all druggists.

PROFESSIONALS ARE "TESTING" MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Stock trading resolved itself again today into a series of tests of the tone of the market by the professional element. That is what is happening from day to day. Profound indifference is maintained by the general public and the capital interests more immediately concerned with the affairs of corporations. Only fractional price changes again proved to be the outcome at the end of the day

The first movement of the market towards a lower level was precipitate and was the response to the remarks by Commissioner Lane at the commerce commission hearing into railroad rates a Chicago. His assertion that "we must work out this problem on other lines than by the proposed method of raising the tariffs" was seized on as definitely outlining the decision of the commission on the petitions now before it for specific advances in rates. The quick check to the downward movement showed there was no widespread agreement with this view.

The particular weakness in Amalgamated Copper was due to the reports that the Calumet and Hecla had lowered its asking price for Lake Copper by ¼c to 12¾c. The nervousness of the speculation over the copper situation permeates the whole speculative fabric and any signs of a break in the copper market are feared for the widespread consequences which might ensue.

Many old rumors were revived in connection with the speculative outburst in Reading, including capital readjustment, distribution and "concealed assets," and so on.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $3,286,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged in the bid price on call.

SHIPMENT FORECAST SENDS WHEAT DOWN

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Overshadowed by a forecast of world shipments reaching the huge total of 15,000,000 bushels for seven days, the wheat market weakened this afternoon to the extent of a net decline of ⅛c to ⅝c. Corn closed unchanged to ⅜c lower, and oats unchanged to a loss of ⅛c. Provisions were evenly poised at the finish, a dime below last night's figure to a dime above.

The estimate of world shipments of wheat represented an increase of 3,368,000 bushels as compared with the aggregate at the corresponding time a year ago. India, Australia and Argentine together sent more than 3,500,000 bushels this week, against only 316,000 bushels 12 months previous. Northwestern stocks of wheat were also threatening a decided increase. It was shown, too, by millers' reports, that winter wheat plowing and seeding has been progressing favorably and that the acreage was being materially widened. Buyers were a little encouraged, however, on official announcement indicating that the French crop is 35,000,000 bushels less than last year. December fluctuated between $1.00⅝ and $1.01, closing ⅛c net lower at $1.00⅛.

Heavy selling from influential local sources offset in corn the effect of wet weather. December sold from 51⅝@¾c to 52⅛c, with the latest sale at 51⅝c, the same as the previous close. The cash market was firm. No. 2 yellow finished at 54@¼c.

Oats followed corn more than wheat today December varied from 34⅝c to 34⅞c, and at the gong was a shade under last night with the first-named price prevailing.

At the windup pork was off 10c, lard a shade to 5c down, and ribs 7½c cheaper to 10c advance.

CAUTIOUS BUYING FEATURE OF TRADE

NEW YORK Sept. 23.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say.

Trade and industrial reports are still irregular, and general characterisation is difficult. Fair activity in some lines and at some centers is indicated, but repression and caution are widely in evidence, and reflected in small, but frequent, rather than large or confident buying.

One really favorable underlying feature, perhaps not thoroughly appreciated at present, is the apparent absence of large stocks of goods in primary or secondary hands, borne apparently of uncertainty as to future prices and the growth of the belief that far distant buying is not either advisable or necessary.

Reports from leading industries are of repression in operation. Basic pig iron is weaker, and there are reports of willingness to sell further ahead. Some finished lines show a slightly larger volume of business booked, but railway buying is still conspicuous by its comparative absence. In the eastern leather trade some sole leather tanners are operating much below capacity, and eastern shoe manufacturers report conservatism marked in buying. As to the west, some centers report factories running to capacity.

In textile lines, curtailment is still in evidence. Staple lines meet with fairly steady demands. Jobbers and manufacturers' stocks are reported lighter than usual. Some makes of gingham and fancy cottons for next spring, for which prices have been announced, have sold quite freely. In the woolen goods trade political agitation is claimed to be holding back future demand.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending September 22 were 190 against 210 last week, 171 in the like week of 1909, 267 in 1908, 166 in 1907 and 165 in 1906. Business failures in Canada for the week number 22, which compares with 30 for last week and 37 in the like week of 1909.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

Onyx silk stockings at 50c pair during this sale

Saturday morning we will begin a sale of the celebrated Lord & Taylor silk stockings at 50c the pair. These are the well known "Onyx" brand so much advertised in the women's magazines.

These stockings differ from the $2 and $3 silk hose by having a garter top of pure lisle thread and a reinforced toe and heel of the same fabric. With this exception they are the finest silk and fit with all the snugness and have the appearance of an all silk stocking. We have had at a former time a lot of these stockings which was closed out in one day. Many women prefer the lisle thread reinforcing to silk, claiming that silk stockings with lisle toes and heels give longer and more satisfactory service.

50c Pair

All sizes, 8 to 10, are included in this sale, and the price of 50c the pair is made only for this sale. Saturday, Lord & Taylor "Onyx" black silk hose at 50c pair. First floor.

50c Pair

BAD BLOOD

OFTEN INHERITED

Bad blood does not always come as [illegible] of careless living, or indiscretions; it is a condition frequently inherited. Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation, their office being to provide every portion of the system with its necessary strength and nutriment. In impure blood these corpuscles are lacking in numbers, and therefore the blood is not able to supply the [illegible] amount of nourishment to the body. Bad blood manifests itself in many ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others are bilious and malarious, have sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. Bad blood produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula and other troubles. Nothing is equal to S. S. S. as a remedy for bad blood; it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing not only the qualities to cleanse and purify the blood, but composed of roots, herbs and barks that tone up every part of the system, and assist in the creation of [illegible] nutriment. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin [illegible], Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, [illegible] and all other blood disorders. S. S. S. makes good blood, and good blood makes good health. ONLY ONE BEST

Colorado Springs People Give Credit Where Credit Is Due.

People of Colorado Springs who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Colorado Springs. Here's Colorado Springs testimony.

Philip Gamble, 719 S. Nevada St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I was troubled a great deal by my kidneys. My back ached intensely, particularly when I stooped and often it was difficult for me to straighten. If I took cold it settled in my kidneys and caused my complaint to become worse. Doan's Kidney Pills taken according to direction brought me prompt relief, and in December 1906, I publicly recommended them. Since then when I have had backache, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have promptly checked the attack. I shall always speak in the highest terms of this remedy."

COLLEGE RULES IN EFFECT

Most of the new rules regulating the conduct of freshmen at Colorado College are in force, and are being supervised by the vigilant sophomore class. The rules provide for the wearing of small black caps, which have not arrived in the city, and prohibit smoking or going bareheaded on the campus, the wearing of High school insignia, or pins of any description, and demand "due respect" for upper classmen." The caps will designate the college department by the colored buttons—green for engineers, purple for forestry students, and red for liberal art students.

NORMAN RINGER PROMOTED

STEWART MURDER CASE ON

The case of William Stewart, colored, charged with murder in causing his wife, a paralytic, to burn to death last June, was begun in the criminal division of the district court yesterday, and will be resumed today. It is expected that the case will go to the jury early this afternoon. A jury was secured yesterday and evidence for the prosecution was started.

According to statements said to have been made by Stewart to the police following the death of his wife, he had been greatly put out because of her almost helpless condition, and found it a hardship to cook his own meals after returning from work in the evening. He reached the house about 10 o'clock one night, several months ago, to find it ablaze, and tried, it is said, to put the fire out with a garden hose. The woman was subsequently found in the middle of the floor, so badly burned that County Physician McKinney said shock from burning caused her death. A can containing kerosene was found under a washstand by the detectives, and it was evident from the line of examination yesterday that the prosecution will try to show that the one-room cabin, covered with corrugated iron, was set on fire, presumably by Stewart.
